

the brushwood, Ty found a section that was covered by a fallen tree trunk, and the two slowly made their way across the barrier. When she hopped off the makeshift bridge, Emily was greeted with a sizeable fire, and Reia's back turned towards them. And to be honest, if you did not know Reia, she looked insane as she watched the flames dance over the body. The problem was none of them truly knew Reia Carnell.

Covetous

Gianna Loboda

A part of me grieves
for the young girl inside of me.

A part of me covetously
envies her memories.

The memories I will never have.

The memories that,
once my own,
will never be mine
again.